Digital Transformation Ensuring Student Success At University Of Sindh Jamshoro

With implementation of customized Edinfini Platform EdTech products altered to the needs of students, staff, and faculty, University of Sindh has been able to achieve remarkable outcomes and effectively manage their operations.

Edinfini was taken onboard by the University of Sindh Jamshoro for Assistance in Design & Deployment of Finance Business Processes. Prior to upgrading to full-featured suite of Edinfini EdTech Products, the University of Sindh maintained their record keeping manually, tracked its inventory in a physical register and its financial data in desktop spreadsheets, and the University used single entry method of bookkeeping. The said practices resulted in a large number of resources invested in day-to-day operations and student affairs with increasing difficulties of extracting data or produce customized reports on financial position, student enrollment status, staff payroll and compensation and many other areas of university functions.

With implementation of Edinfini's suite of EdTech products, the University was able to completely transform their critical functions. The powerfully integrated and fully automated Edinfini solutions streamlined the entire spectrum of management functions at the University.
